

Now even better: BEWI DOG®

Traditional German dog food brand is first to receive the TÜV quality label

BEWI DOG®, the long-standing German dog food brand, was given a makeover and now comes in clearer packaging and new pack sizes. However, it's what's inside the packaging that counts, and the manufacturer, BEWITAL petfood, has improved its recipes. Most are wheat-free now and contain special additives derived from brewer's yeast for a healthy gut. Carefully selected ingredients ensure a high content of animal protein which is clearly stated on the bags. The new food variety "mini sensitive" with lamb and millet has been formulated specifically for small dog breeds.

BEWITAL is the first dog food manufacturer in Germany to have all its dog food varieties certified by TÜV Rheinland. A seal of approval on the BEWI DOG® packs shows that the nutrient content has been tested and corresponds to the declaration on the packaging, and provides assurances that tests have been carried out for potentially harmful substances – evidence of the manufacturer's commitment to ensuring the highest standards of safety for its products.
